It seems as if the causes are to be at Indianapolis today.

Paderewski is said to be tired of being Polish Premier and wants to go back to his piano. He found too much discord in politics.

John Burroughs, the naturalist, says we are in for a hard winter as many arctic birds have been driven as far south as Maine and Michigan.

A London dispatch says the Reds have captured Gen. Denikine's base. Many a bad boy outside of Russia knows how to sympathize with the General.

Dec. 22 will be the shortest day of the year and Dec. 26 is the day upon which most of the people are shortest.

Senator Jones, Democrat, of New Mexico, has introduced a bill to increase postage four hundred per cent on newspapers of more than 24 pages.

Now that the Republican convention is to meet in Chicago, let Mayor Bill Thompson get to work on his address of welcome and the LaFollette men open headquarters.

Clara Kimball Young is on the lookout for a young woman to succeed her as star in her motion picture plays, when she retires two years hence.

Geo. F. Rand, president of the Marine National Bank, of Buffalo, N. Y., was killed in an airplane accident in London. That's what he got by not having himself put off at Buffalo.

Porto Rico is all wrought up over report that the earth will collide with a comet tomorrow and be destroyed and 500 University students have asked that school be "let out" in order that they may spend the last day at their homes.

Having made good his ante-election pledge by appointing his non-partisan board of control as far as the law limiting it to five members allows, it now remains to be seen whether or not the appointees will accept and serve without pay.

Gov. Morrow says he has discovered an unknown assistant adjutant general in Shelbyville, in the person of Maj. Byron Flood, and has ordered him to report for duty at once. Who said, "There is a tide in the affairs of men, which taken at the Flood leads on to fortune." Perhaps our young Governor is fortune-hunting.

Lewis, the strike leader who received a telegram from the President congratulating him on ending the strike and later called at the White House, is the same swell-head who a month ago accused the President of usurping authority in trying to end the strike. Mr. Wilson is a good forgetter.

Senator Hiram Johnson, of California, has formally announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for President. He has gone to California to arrange a speaking campaign covering the whole country. Hiram, who bolted his party ticket eight years ago need not be surprised if he fails to set the world a-fire.

DUE TO INEXPERIENCE

American aviators Eddie Rickenbacker and James R. Meisner told a House Committee that Quentin Roosevelt's death was due to inexperience. He became lost in a cloud bank in the second combat he was in and joined up with a German squadron and was later shot down. They said that he was deserting to the Germans.

REALISTIC MOVIE STORM

YACHT REACHES PORT AFTER THREE DAYS IN STORM, SAYS REPORT

CRAFT WALLOWED IN SEAS

Pilot Injured and Movie Actors Take Turn at Wheel of Ship.

Miami, Fla., Dec. 15.—The Miami Herald last night received a wireless message from Hotel Lucerne, Nassau, saying the Gray Duck arrived in Nassau late Sunday, December 14, and that all of the party on board are safe but have been without food for three days. Two of the party were swept from the deck but were rescued. The boat nearly capsized in the northwest channel. The pilot was injured and others on board were forced to take their turn at the wheel while the helpless craft wallowed in the seas.

David W. Griffith, motion picture producer, Will J. Reed, Mayor of Ft. Lauderdale, his daughter, Marion, and thirty-four other persons of the Griffith company were on board. They left Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock for Nassau, Bahama Islands, and had not been heard from since. Under ordinary conditions the yacht should have reached Nassau between 9 and 10 o'clock Wednesday night.

HOPKINSVILLE HAS TWO
Hopkinsville has two prominent Republicans who have let Governor Morrow know that they would be willing to succeed John B. Chilton, warden of the penitentiary at Ed-dyville. They are Deputy Sheriff Lem R. Davis and former Chief of Police J. Sal Fritz. Both are staunch party men but would willingly respond for duty if drafted by the non-partisan Board of Control.

ONE AIRPLANE LOST
London, Dec. 15.—The airplane of Capt. Cedric Ernest Howell, one of the British airmen in the London-Melbourne flight, was wrecked off St. George's Bay, Island of Corfu, December 10, and there is no hope that either Howell or his machinist escaped, according to a dispatch to Lloyd's from Corfu. The dispatch adds that the log of the airplane was washed ashore.

SOMETHING IN A NAME.
Possession of a Christian name that is probably without duplicate in all the world is the rather unique distinction enjoyed by Mrs. Allan Mackenzie, well known woman in English society. Her Christian name, Louvima, is happily compounded of the Christian names of Queen Alexander's daughters—the Princess Royal—Princess Louise, Princess Victoria and Prince Maud, now the Queen of Norway.

H. C. L. STATISTICS.
Statistics from 10 cities, shows Providence leading with $707.86 and Minneapolis tenth with $577.71 for the average cost per family for 22 articles of food in 1919, as against $384.50 and $311.37 in 1913. Louisville, San Francisco and Seattle are practically the same at $623.

STILL RESTRICTED TO ONE TON

The restrictions on the sale of coal in quantities over 25 bushels have not been removed in this city and while the dealers now have coal, they cannot fill orders for more than one ton at a time. The expectation is that all restrictions will be removed by the end of the week.

THE THREE UNWISE MEN

WHY GARFIELD END AFTER LONG ILLNESS RESIGNED

Tells the Senatorial Committee Why He Couldn't Get Along.

Garfield made it plain that Secretary Wilson and Attorney General Palmer were the principal members with whom he had disagreed.

Garfield said that the Federal trade commission put to work a force of forty men on from 3,000 to 4,000 cost sheets of the central coal operators in order that they might form an estimate as to the available wage cost to the operator.

He found that the average wage was $6 a day for 200 work days, or about $1,200 a year, the lowest about $80 a month for twelve months figured on the same basis of 200 days' work.

"I discovered no submerged group," Dr. Garfield said. "I found no group that was not able to keep themselves going in accordance with the present cost of living."

"Then your proposal of 14 per cent increase was based on reason and justice to all?" asked Senator Frelinghuysen.

"I think so," Dr. Garfield answered.

He said his inability to get Secretary Wilson, Attorney-General Palmer and other members of the Cabinet to agree with him that a 14 per cent increase was sufficient had caused his withdrawal.

He had not been consulted about the proposed commission, nor had he known anything about it until he read about the new plan in the newspapers.

"Your theory is that the employer and the employee, represented on a commission such as that proposed, would have a common interest antagonistic to the public good, is that it?" questioned Senator Townsend.

"Yes," replied Dr. Garfield, "I think a commission of this kind should advise, but should not determine."

"Do you know whether the last agreement that has been made with the miners sanctions a wage increase above 14 per cent?" continued Senator Townsend.

"I do not," replied Dr. Garfield. "It could be done?" questioned Senator Frelinghuysen.

"Yes, that could be done."

Death Comes to W. B. Dillman, For Fifteen Years a Rural Mail Carrier.

Mr. W. B. Dillman died at his home at 128 East 17th street, Friday night, after an illness of two years, of rheumatism, which finally attacked his heart.

Mr. Dillman came to this county from his native county of Muhlenberg and engaged in farming until he became the first carrier on Route 4 out of Hopkinsville. He filled this place for 15 years, until his health failed.

Mr. Dillman was born March 1, 1858 and is survived by his wife and four children, Dennie and George Dillman, Mrs. C. F. Guthrie and Mrs. Edwin Foster, of Covington, Ky. His mother and brother, J. H. Dillman, and two sisters, Mrs. T. L. Yonts and Mrs. D. D. Cayce, also survive him.

He was a member of the Baptist church and the funeral was conducted by Rev. Leonard W. Doolan yesterday afternoon. The burial was in Riverside cemetery.

STRAT ON DIXIE BEE LINE IN THE SPRING

George G. Ehrenborg and his staff of engineers have completed the survey of the Dixie Bee Line in Webster county and work of improving this highway will begin in the early spring. Webster county now has available the sum of $82,500 to apply on this highway, which will be used in 1920. It will have a larger sum the following year.—Providence Enterprise.

CORN STILL KING.

Corn remains king of crops in America, with a value this year of $3,934,234,000. Cotton is second with $2,332,913,000, hay third with $2,180,087,000 and oats close to one billion.

STILL IMPROVING.

President Wilson is now able to dress himself and walk about his rooms with the aid of a cane each day.

RESIDENCE SOLD.

Judge J. S. Ragsdale has purchased of B. F. Godwin the Blumensteil place on East 7th street.

LIMITATIONS ON USE OF FUEL END

FUEL ACTIVITIES HALTED BECAUSE OF GARFIELD'S RESIGNATION

CONGRESS TO PROBE STRIKE

Attorney General Palmer and Other High Officials to Be Questioned.

Washington, Dec. 15.—While relaxation of restrictions on the use of bituminous coal continues, indicating governmental belief that the strike crisis in the industry has passed, Congressional investigation began to bear upon the active participants in the settlement.

The appearance of Dr. Harry A. Garfield, whose resignation as Federal Fuel Administrator was accepted by President Wilson, before the Senate sub-committee investigating the coal situation followed by indications that Attorney General Palmer and other high officials would be called on this week to explain why plans of Dr. Garfield were set aside, and a compromise made with the miners' union on a basis which the former fuel administrator described as contrary to fundamental principles of government.

Acting President John L. Lewis, of the United Mine Workers of America, who is attending the labor-reconstruction conference here, predicted that by night 95 per cent of the miners would be back to work.

"Though it has been a difficult task to reach all of the men in the short time since the decision was reached," he said, "it is certain that they will go back."

Restrictions imposed on the use of fuel during the strike gradually are being removed under the discretionary authority to rescind such orders given the regional railroad directors. Thus the working week will open with a nearer approach to a normal industrial situation than any week since the strike was made effective November 1.

Severed Jugular Vein.

Mr. Robert Morehead, aged 40, ended his life early Sunday morning by cutting his throat with a razor. Mr. Morehead lived near the Rocks, about six miles from Henshaw. He was married and had two children.

What caused the rash act is not known. Mr. Morehead had recently lost a horse and his corn was destroyed by the high water. Brooding over these losses is supposed to have been the cause for the suicide.—Morganfield Sun.

WILSON HAS NO COMPROMISE

PRESIDENT TO TAKE NO FURTHER STEPS, SAYS WHITE HOUSE STATEMENT.

REPUBLICANS KILLED TREATY

Knox Resolution To Declare War at End May Reach Vote Soon.

Washington, Dec. 15.—President Wilson today intervened in the peace-treaty dilemma with an announcement that he had "no compromise or concession of any kind in mind," would make no move towards the treaty's disposition, and would continue to hold the Republican members of the Senate responsible for results and conditions attending delay.

The president's position is regarded as peculiarly significant in view of the recent discussion in the Senate of a compromise.

Senator Hitchcock, commenting on the White House statement, declared that the Democrats would continue efforts for compromising the reservations and that the Senate and not the President should act first.

SUPREME COURT SAYS CONSTITUTIONAL

Hold That War Prohibition Stands and the Court is Dry for Good

Washington, Dec. 15.—The United States Supreme Court today held wartime prohibition to be constitutional.

The opinion was read by Associate Justice Brandies who said the government did not appropriate liquor by stopping its domestic sale as the way was left open for exporting it.

He declared the signing of the armistice did not abrogate the war powers of Congress and called attention to the continued control of railroads and the re-assumption of the powers by the government relative to coal and sugar, under the war acts, to show that the government continued to exercise various war powers despite the signing of the armistice.

PEMBROKE STILL GROWING.

Pembroke Baptist church with a quota of $17,000; in the $7,000, 000 Campaign, has added another $2,000 to the subscription, bringing them to $40,573, or 233 per cent. This is the best work done by any church of Bethel Association, due largely to the direction of the young pastor, Rev. B. O. Herring.

VOTE TO CONTINUE STRIKE.

Washington, Dec. 15.—Continuation of the nation-wide steel workers' strike was voted today by the conference here of the twenty-four presidents of unions connected with the steel industry. It was said that there were only two dissenting votes; most of the union leaders maintaining that victory in the controversy was in sight.

It is said that flags hung with the fields toward buildings are in violation of military etiquette, the position meaning that the buildings are in distress and appealing for aid. Many flags in Louisville were hung wrong and the Courier-Journal called upon the decorators to correct the error before Gen. Pershing's arrival in the city.

The Republican national committee selected Chicago and Tuesday, June 8, as the place and time for the national convention at which the party's 1920 candidate for President will be nominated. The plan of Will H. Hays, the national chairman, for limitation of individual campaign contributions to $1,000, formally was approved, and the committee announced some changes in the apportionment of delegates to the national convention. The changes were not of a sweeping nature, however, and affected only seven states.

NEW FORD STORY.

The following appeared a few days ago in the State Register, of Springfield, Ill.:

"Many are the stories of Henry Ford and his popular automobile, but Hillsboro is relating what it calls the best of the season, and the facts in the case are true. It happened in one of the leading churches of the city that the pastor took for the text of his sermon, 'Better Church Attendance.'

"The pastor held that the automobile had taken more people away from the church than any other thing. He concluded with the exclamation: 'The Ford car has taken more people to hell than any other thing that I can mention!' Whereupon an old lady in the congregation began to clap her hands and moan 'Praise the Lord! Praise the Lord!'

"What's the matter, sister," asked the pastor.

"The Ford never went any place it couldn't make the round trip, and I am sure that all of those people in hell will be back," she answered, 'So

The Lost Page

By CECILLE LANGDON

(Copyright, 1919, by the Western Newspaper Union.)

There came a call from another downstairs, just as Lucy Barton had finished a letter to a friend at the seaside. It was six pages in length and, in gathering up the loose sheets and folding them later, Lucy Barton did not notice that one of them, the last, was missing. The wind had blown it away.

That last page bore the final paragraph of the epistle and read: "I shall not visit Ocean Beach this season, Winnie, dear. I suppose it is because I am a little homelike being and too closely analyze the superficial beaux and belles of idle social life. My dream is a modest one—a sweet little cottage, covered with roses, a cuckoo clock and a dairy. As to the life partner, with all this happy beauty he must simply love me."

A shy, retiring young man passed the place an hour later. As he neared the Barton home he walked slowly and mused to himself that his cuffs were adjusted and his socks smooth and neat. He looked disappointed as he peered past the trees and shrubbery of the garden. Gordon Heath had met Lucy Barton twice and longed earnestly to meet her again. As he reached the edge of the lot a sheet of paper, caught up from the garden by a fitful breeze, almost blew into his face. He caught it in his hand and was about to throw it away when he noticed the words, "Your faithful friend, Lucy Barton."

It made the finger tips of shy Gordon Heath thrill to come in contact with words the adorable Lucy had written. His glance rested on the paragraph preceding the signature. Reverently Gordon folded the rose-colored, violet-scented page, placed it in his pocket and half a mile further on sat down on a bench in a little park and was lost in deep reflection.

That evening he met Lucy at a little social function and was her escort home. As they parted Lucy read his eager, though mute, wishes aright. She invited Gordon to call at the house and he went away blissfully treading on air.

Lucy was amazed at the liking she began to conceive for this casual acquaintance who soon developed into a regular escort. He had not the courage to seek the initial situation that would give him the right to speak out his sentiments, and Lucy did not ward it. One day there was a revelation. Arrangements had been made for a tennis party at the Barton place and half a dozen of those invited had arrived. They were chatting animatedly when Nell Brown caused Lucy to flush slightly as he observed: "I say, who can solve for me the mystery of Gordon Heath's latest thrift movement?"

"Why, what is it?" propounded his sister.

"Daddy, the real estate man, told me today that he had sold the Morse cottage to 'him.'"

"Alas! That solves a branch mystery," broke in Roy Telford. "I saw Gordon up at the nursery last week ordering enough rose bushes to cover a farm."

"And a carpenter came into our place this morning and arranged for material to put up a little up-to-date dairy on the place Heath has bought," said Val Endicott. "He's certainly going to get married. Lucy, how is that?"

Lucy was growing as red as a peony. "Why do you ask me?" she fluttered; but just then a new arrival was observed at the gate and Gordon Heath approached. Mercy Brown, tease that she was, advanced to meet him.

"Oh, Mr. Heath, the secret is out!" she cried.

"Why, what do you mean?" interrogated Heath.

"Cottage—roses—dairy! We are all wild to know who you intend to put in that pretty home you have bought."

"Why—that is I—I purchased it as an investment."

"Nobody believes that, and while we are waiting for the others there is time to run over to the cottage in question."

He looked quite uncomfortable as the imperious group forced him to lead the way. He never addressed so much as a word to Lucy, at his side.

All about his "investment" rose bushes had been set. Behind it was the frame structure that was to be the dairy. Lucy and he stood on the porch. The others scattered about the place as he unlocked the front door.

"There are five rooms—" began Gordon, when Lucy uttered a quick gasp as her eyes fell upon a clock on the mantel.

"You see—I mean—that is, I have started in buying a few things and—"

There was an interrupting snap as a little door in the clock sprang open and a little bird ran out, ran back again and chirped:

"Cuckoo!"

It recalled to Lucy's mind her letter to Winnie. She noticed Gordon groping in his pocket. He brought to light the lost sheet.

"Miss Barton, I found this near your home. You can guess the rest. Was the cuckoo and myself got to lead a lonely life?" he spoke.

"Why, I like cuckoos," replied Lucy, delightfully caud; and I like you, too—"

Her glowing eyes told the rest of the story and between them there passed their first kiss in their future home.

A NERVOUS WRECK

from Three Years' Suffering. Says Cardui Made Her Well.

Texas City, Tex.—In an interesting statement, Mrs. G. H. Schill, of this town, says: "For three years I suffered untold agony with my head. I was unable to do any of my work."

I just wanted to sleep all the time, for that was the only ease I could get, when I was asleep. I became a nervous wreck just from the awful suffering with my head.

I was so nervous that the least noise would make me jump out of my bed. I had no energy, and was unable to do anything. My son, a young boy, had to do all my household duties.

I was not able to do anything until I took Cardui. I took three bottles in all, and it surely cured me of those awful headaches. That has been three years ago, and I know the cure is permanent, for I have never had any headache since taking Cardui.

Nothing relieved me until I took Cardui. It did wonders for me."

Try Cardui for your troubles—made from medicinal ingredients recommended in medical books as being of benefit in female troubles, and 40 years of use has proven that the books are right. Begin taking Cardui today. NC-134

Never the Same Again.

Friendship is a vase which, when it is flawed by heat or violence, or accident, may as well be broken at once; it can never be trusted after. The more graceful and ornamental it was, the more clearly do we discern the hopelessness of restoring it to its former state. Coarse stones, if they be fractured, may be cemented again; precious ones, never.—Walter S. Landon.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

THE BAPTIST SEMINARY.

Announcement was made Wednesday of this week that the State Board of Missions of the Baptist church has appropriated the sum of $110,000 "as a nucleus of a $1,000,000 fund to erect building for the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary on the Brownsboro road."

So far as we are informed the Baptists have never gone outside, or far outside, of their own denomination in an effort to raise funds for the great institution of learning that has for many years been conducted in Louisville, but there are many who are not affiliated with that church who would be willing to help in raising the money necessary to build a new plant for the Theological Seminary. The grounds owned by the Seminary on the Brownsboro road are sufficient to contain buildings corresponding to the importance of the institution. It may be that the building can be erected for $1,000,000 but, if more is needed it should be raised, for the Southern Baptist Seminary is not only the first institution of the Baptist church, but it is one of the most important institutions for theological instruction in the world.

Louisville is deeply interested in the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary. When we think of this institution we think of the great men who have served in its faculty—Manly and Broadus and Whittier and, in more recent years, Dr. Mullins, intellectually the peer of any that have gone before, and, in powers of organization, the ablest of all. But we do not, perhaps, think as much as we should of the great work that has been done by the young men who go out from this Seminary to engage in religious and educational pursuits the country over. The Baptists have a faculty for taking care of themselves, and it may be that will be much for export.

they prefer to raise their own money for their new plant, but, if it is possible that others can help, we are sure that there will be many volunteers, of whom the Evening Post will not be the last to offer.—Louisville Post.

TOBACCO SALES STILL STRONG

Light Offerings Yesterday Mostly of the Lower Grades.

The tobacco sales yesterday were comparatively light, owing to the freezing weather, but prices were fully as strong as last week, on corresponding grades.

There were no fine types offered yesterday and no very high prices were reported, but low grades sold very strong.

Receipts are coming in in quantities justifying daily sales and there will be sales every day up to Christmas Eve.

LEFT WITH PAY ROLL

Three thousand enlisted men of the Fifth Field Artillery, First Division, were compelled to forego their pay for May when the regimental payroll of $100,000 disappeared simultaneously with Lieut. FIRST SNOW SATURDAY.

The blizzard which caused zero weather in the northwest, sent the mercury down to 8 to 14 degrees here Friday. On Saturday the rain turned into snow, and the first snowfall of the season covered the ground about a quarter of an inch. Traces of it still remain. The mercury registered 8 degrees Saturday, 10 Sunday and 14 yesterday morning. Fortunately the coal situation was changed before the cold snap and there was no coal shortage the latter part of the week.

THIS TIME VILLA THE AGGRESSOR

Eagle Pass, Texas, Dec. 15.—Definite news from Fred G. Hugo, American manager of the J. M. Dobies ranch, near Muzquiz, Coahuila, held by Francisco Villa for $10,000 ransom, still is lacking. Unofficial reports reaching the border, however, indicated that the American with several Mexican hostages probably was being detained in El Pino Mountains about 100 miles from Muzquiz. Whether federal troops had taken up pursuit of the Villistas could not be learned.

Villa did not molest the poorer persons in Muzquiz, confining his looting to the wealthier residents and the principal stores, according to advices. He carried off a large supply of blankets, several automobiles, horses and wagons and great quantities of food, it was said.

KILLED BY LIVE WIRE

Morehead, Ky., Dec. 12.—Earl Maggard, 17-year-old son of E. E. Maggard, president of the Consolidated Coal Company, was instantly killed yesterday afternoon by a live wire while at the top of a pole making repairs. The current, it is alleged, was turned on prematurely.

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over thirty years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. HERE TO STAY

The tan and scarf shawl has been gaining in popularity for the school miss or outdoor girl until this year exclusive sets are retailing in many shops at prices which formerly were paid for furs. The rich deep nap on the camelhair sets in plaids—and even oriental patterns—give all the warmth and "that comfy feeling" obtainable in a heavy wrap. These two sets are of the newest pattern.

Condition to Avoid.

The dangerous moment in life comes when men begin to over-value the past at the expense of the present. It is the moment of religious controversies, for ancestor worship, for narrowing in, for exalting one set of people and excluding another. When we reach it, it means that we are growing old. But we need never reach it.—Exchange.

Useful as Well as Cheap.

Automobile oil is inexpensive, and useful for many household purposes; one drop will relieve a squeaking door hinge or a heavy running sewing machine; wipe it off with absorbent cotton.

DAIRY FACTS

TESTING FOR TUBERCULOSIS

Every Precaution Should Be Taken to Prevent Contamination From Older Animals.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Calves may become infected with tuberculosis at an early age, and any effort to eradicate this dreaded disease from the herd should not overlook the younger animals. Diseased stock may undoubtedly transmit the ailment to calves by association with them in the same stable or feedlot, and even by contact through a fence which divides the younger from the older animals.

The youngest age at which department of agriculture veterinarians recommend testing calves for tuberculosis is six months. In special instances, Young Calf Running With Other Animals—They Are Subject to Tuberculosis If Any of Older Animals Have Disease.

however, numbers of animals under this age have been satisfactorily tested with tuberculin. The present regulations of the bureau prescribe a dose of two cubic centimeters of tuberculin for calves ranging from six months to one year of age.

MILK STRAINERS COMPARED

Absorbent Cotton and Filter Cloth More Effective Than Wire Gauze or Cheesecloth.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Clean milk depends primarily on sanitary methods of production, but milk strainers as commonly used also have a direct bearing on the quality of commercial milk. Certain kinds of strainers cause milk to appear clean, but fail to remove all impurities. Of all the milk filters in common use only two—absorbent cotton and filter cloth—are reasonably efficient in actually improving the commercial quality of milk. Even these filters must be kept clean and changed frequently to insure satisfactory results.

According to reports from about forty thousand farmers wire gauze strainers are in more general use than any other kind, but studies with the microscope show plainly that the meshes are much too large to hold back any but the very coarse impurities. One thickness of cheesecloth or other cotton cloth is only slightly more effective than a wire gauze strainer, but when the cloth is folded to about eight thicknesses its ability to remove dirt in milk increases somewhat, but is still inefficient as compared to absorbent cotton or filter cloth.

Filter cloth, a specially made cotton cloth, smooth on one side and "fuzzy" on the other, was found reasonably effective. This cloth can be obtained from leading dairy supply houses. The milk should be poured on the fuzzy side, the fibers of which stand up like the nap of a carpet, and remove all but a small percentage of the solid impurities. The most effective strainer of all, however, according to the experiments, was a layer of absorbent cotton placed between two thicknesses of cheesecloth.

At best straining milk is a practice that makes milk appear clean and therefore more easily salable, but no strainer removes either the bacteria and objectionable flavors or the very fine dirt. As a consequence straining milk fails to improve its wholesomeness to any noticeable degree. Clean milk is best obtained by sanitary methods which prevent, so far as possible, the entrance of dirt into the milk. This can be done best by having clean cows in a clean stable and milking with clean hands into sterilized small-top pails.

DAIRY NOTES

Build your silo; the cows will pay for it.

A change of pasture is good for both cows and pasture.

Cream should be cooled immediately after it is separated.

Best returns from the average dairy cows come between the age of 5 and 8 years.

Do not forget that the separator parts should be washed and sterilized after each use.

A dose of Epsom salts sometimes will cure a case of blood in the cow's milk. It depends on the cause.
